

JOHNSON WINS $9,280 AWARD FOR DAMAGES

The Adams county jury hearing the appeal of Jay D. Johnson from the award of viewings Monday afternoon awarded the Gettysburg man a total of $9,280 for damages caused to his properties in Franklin township by the relocation of the Lincoln highway west of here.

After two hours' deliberation, the jury returned with verdicts finding in favor of Johnson in the sum of $8,000 for damages to his 122-acre farm, $900 for damages to crops on the farm. The verdict also found in favor of Johnson in deciding the actual ownership of a 25-foot strip of land at the front of Johnson's cottage property. Deeds read into the record during the trial indicated that there was apparently an overlapping of property of John A. Dice and Johnson judging by the descriptions of the properties on two deeds. The jury found that the Johnson cottage property extended to the Lincoln highway.

Arthur H. Buehler was foreman of the jury which had been on the case since last Wednesday afternoon.

$3,000 Above Viewers
The jury decision awarded Johnson in excess of $3,000 more than had been given by the board of view from whose decision Johnson had appealed. The board of view had of—

CHEMICAL FIRM HAS OBTAINED $600,000 LOAN

The current issue of a financial magazine reports the completion of a long term loan of $600,000 to the Central Chemical corporation, which has its principal offices at Hagerstown and a plant in Gettysburg.

Central Chemical corporation of Maryland was incorporated in 1937, and Central Chemical of Pennsylvania in 1944. These two companies were consolidated in 1947, succeeding a business which was originally founded in 1910.

Central Chemical now owns plants at Hagerstown, Gettysburg, Milton, Butler and Everett, Pa., and in addition to operating these plants also operates plants at Harrisburg, Crimora and Oranda, Va., which have been leased from its subsidiary, Central Chemical of Virginia.

The company owns the plant operated by its affiliate, Central Chemical corporation of Lebanon, and owns 75 per cent of the stock of the Barker Chemical corporation of Barker, N. Y., operating plants at Barker and Alton, N. Y., for the manufacture and distribution of insecticides.

The local plant was started January 3, 1950, by Samuel G. Spangler and the late J. Price Oyer. The partners observed their 50th anniversary on January 3, 1950. The firm became associated with Central Chemical in 1917.

The loan is unsecured and is to be repaid in semi-annual installments over a 12-year period, but the company has the right to repay the entire amount before maturity or to accelerate the semi-annual payments. From 1937 to 1950 the corporation, largely owned by consumer customers, has paid dividends on preferred and common shares of stock approximating $780,000.

During recent years the company has expanded and improved its plants, and it serves, in addition to its customers in this country, many users of its products in a number of foreign lands.

$285,000 Loan For Adams Electric

The Adams Electric Cooperative was granted a loan of $285,000 Monday by the Rural Electrification administration, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

Calvin A. Cluck, manager of the cooperative, could not be reached for comment today, but a spokesman said the loan would be used for "system improvements." These improvements include extension of electric power lines and erection of heavier lines to take care of increased demands.

Mr. Cluck was in Cleveland attending the annual REA convention in that city. He was expected home Friday.

ROTARY DENTAL PROJECT BEING STUDIED BY CLUB

Gettysburg's Rotary club Monday evening at its meeting in the YWCA began consideration of the problem of how to carry out its dental project in order to do the most good with the money on hand.

While no final decisions were reached, either at the meeting or at a meeting of the board of directors held following the regular session, two general plans, to run concurrently, seemed to find the most favor among the Rotarians.

Whether those plans will be undertaken remains a question until further study is made, but the plan favored Monday consisted of two concurrent projects:

Two-Fold Plan
First would be an educational program among the schools to interest children in proper care of teeth; the second part of the project would be to provide financial aid where needed to help get dental work done among the children.

Both ideas were advanced in talks given to the Rotary club by Mrs. Joseph Bushey, state nurse, and Miss M. Kathryn Wagaman, nurse in the Gettysburg schools.

Miss Wagaman pointed out the success of an educational program carried out in the Gettysburg public schools last year. As a result of a dental health contest, 77 per cent of the children had corrections made to their teeth in accordance with findings of the school health examination. In a control group in which no educational campaign was made the completions totaled 49 per cent, Miss Wagaman said. During the previous year when no contests were held the number of children who

Two Charges Filed By State Police

A charge of stopping his automobile on the highway without giving a proper signal was filed today against Charles A. Smith, 565 Hillcrest Place, by state police of the Gettysburg substation. A ten-day notice will be mailed by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Authorities said Smith stopped his car on the Biglerville road on January 20, near the Adams county jail, to pick up two pedestrians. Another automobile following him was unable to stop and went around him on the right side, according to authorities.

George T. Steele, Carlisle barracks, was charged today by state police with speeding, and a ten-day notice will also be mailed by Squire Basehore.

Lions' Wives Levy Fines With Free Hand At Surprise Event; Burlesque '50 Minstrel Show

Gettysburg Lions found Monday evening that the lion is not the king of beasts—it's the lioness.

Wives of some 80 members of the local club staged a surprise "ladies night" Monday evening, invading the club meeting, taking over officers' positions, levying fines with great abandon and then winding up with a burlesque of last spring's Lion's club minstrel show.

The minstrel numbers—many of them by wives of the Lions who had taken the corresponding roles in the benefit show last spring—kept the Lions roaring with laughter just as enthusiastically as they had howled with pain as the lady tailtwisters extracted fines with utter disregard for the traditional 20-cent limit and entirely unhampered by the announcement by Mrs. Radford Lippy, acting president, that the limit had been raised to 50 cents per Lion.

Most of the Lions were surprised when the ladies walked in on the club's weekly dinner session which was being held in the social hall of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church. The clubmen derived some satisfaction in noting that the ladies were late. It turned out they had been expected by 6:15 p.m. but it was 6:30 o'clock when they put in their appearance.

$25 To Polio Fund
President Radford Lippy had announced to the Lions there would be some delay in serving the meal "because of trouble with the stoves." The clubmen sang while they waited for the turkey platters. They voted the March of Dimes $25 and decided to elect delegates and alternates next week to the Atlantic City International Lions convention.

Twenty minutes after the ladies arrived from the Methodist church where they had assembled secretly and bought their dinner tickets, extra tables had been set up for the ladies and the platters appeared.

The Lions had scarcely started on their turkey dinners when the lady tailtwisters started work and soon proved the female of the species is more deadly than the male—at collecting money.

Close Section Of Route 116

Harrisburg, Jan. 30 (P)—The State Highways Department today closed a five-mile stretch of traffic Route 116 in Franklin county at the request of the Army to make way for a government defense project in the Camp Ritchie, Md., area.

Ray F. Smock, state secretary of highways, said the closed section extends westward from the Adams county line. An alternate detour route is being set up.

Smock said the Army requested closing of the road in order to facilitate the hauling of waste matter from a defense project in the area to a dumping place.

The road will be closed for nine months to a year, Smock said. He added he was uninformed as to the nature of the government project.

There has been considerable activity in the Adams-Franklin county area near Camp Ritchie in the last year. The Army said last August that Camp Ritchie will be "a supplemental communications installation" but has made no further announcement.

BULLETINS

Lake Success, Jan. 30 (P)—The Soviet bloc tried unsuccessfully today to delay for 24 hours a United Nations vote on the United States demand that Communist China be indicted as an aggressor in Korea.

Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia appealed for an adjournment of the U.N. Political committee on the ground that they had received no instructions on amendments to the U.S. proposal and to an Arab-African resolution calling for a seven-power conference on Far Eastern problems.

The committee turned down the adjournment proposal by a vote of 32 against, 10 in favor and 12 abstentions.

Washington, Jan. 30 (P)—French Premier Rene Pleven said today France is building up her strength steadily to do her full part in the North Atlantic alliance against Communist aggression.

Under the defense buildup now in progress, he said, France will have 20 regular divisions in Europe by the end of 1953, with 100,000 more men under arms than at the outbreak of World War II. "France is your ally and not just a fair weather friend," he pledged Americans.

Washington, Jan. 30 (P)—A former defense official said today he thinks it probably will be necessary soon to draft both 18 year olds and young married men.

Polio Fund Dance Wednesday Night

Reservations for tables for the Polio fund dance to be held at the Hotel Gettysburg Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock must be made by Wednesday noon, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, chairman of the March of Dimes fund campaign, said today.

The reservations, at $1 per person, can be made at the hotel. The money goes to the polio fund.

Wednesday's dance is the annual ball held as part of the fund raising activities of the Adams County chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis foundation. The drive this year has a goal of $6,000 which will be needed if the county chapter is to carry on its work of caring for persons in the county suffering from infantile paralysis. Last year more was spent for the care of those suffering from the disease than was secured in the drive.

C. M. SHEELY HAS ENDED 44 YEARS WITH RAILROAD

Charles M. Sheely, 144 Springs avenue, has joined the ranks of retired Gettysburg railroaders. He is the third Reading company employee to retire within the past few years. Samuel A. Weiser was the first, and Mahlon P. Hartzell the second. Both reside on East Lincoln avenue and both are now members of the borough council.

Mr. Sheely retired on his 65th birthday, on January 16. He is "taking things easy" at his home here, and says he has no plans for the immediate future. Maurice L. Fleagle, another veteran of the Reading, and a former Gettysburgian, has taken Mr. Sheely's "run" on the Reading between Harrisburg and Allentown.

Mr. Sheely is a native of Adams county and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheely. He was born on his father's farm on the Bonneauville road, and went to work for the Reading in 1907 as a brakeman at Gettysburg. In 1913 he was promoted to conductor.

Although he started out in freight service, he was assigned to passenger trains a few years later and for

LIGHT SNOW TO BE FOLLOWED BY NEW COLD SNAP

Adams countians awoke this morning to find a thin cover of snow on streets, highways, rooftops and fields, and state highway department crews were out shortly after 6 o'clock cinderling hills and curves.

J. William Kendeheart, Jr., county highway superintendent, said all sections of the county were covered by cinderling crews this morning, and that cinders were placed on Gettysburg streets in slippery places twice.

State police of the Gettysburg substation said driving was hazardous throughout most of the county during the morning and particularly bad on Mt. Newman. More snow fell west of Gettysburg than in the borough, they said.

The mercury registered 22 degrees above zero this morning, and there was little thawing throughout the day.

Cold Wave Coming
In the western part of the state, a new blast of wintry weather followed a week-end of ice and sleet storm. The Pittsburgh weather bureau predicted a low temperature tonight of three degrees below zero.

The cold wave was heading east, and extended throughout the mid-west as far south as the Rio Grande. The U. S. weather bureau in Milwaukee said that Lone Rock, Wis., in the south-central part of the state, had a temperature Monday night estimated at 53 degrees below zero. The official thermometer there goes only to 45 below. Other points reported sub-zero readings.

There was a mounting death toll attributed to the cold and icy weather. Hundreds suffered injuries in falls. Schools closed in many areas. Travel on highways was slowed and many air flights were cancelled. Communications were disrupted in many sections. The cold missed only two parts of the nation, the extreme southeast and the far west, forecasters said.

More cold air from Canada was predicted to move in to the east this afternoon and tonight.

Red Resistance Slows UN Forces' Advance; Navy Aids Cause With Heavy Assault

By OLEN CLEMENTS
Tokyo, Jan. 30 (P)—Doughboys spearheading the Allies' limited offensive were slowed to a crawl by diehard Red resistance today. An officer said they apparently hit the main enemy force arrayed along the frozen western Korean warfront.

On the east coast, U.N. naval power hurled hot steel and bombs into a North Korean town from carrier-based planes and big guns of warships. Hundreds of enemy supply vehicles were seen in North Korea moving southward toward the western battle line.

Forward U.N. units in the western sector advanced laboriously only a few hundred yards on the sixth day of their northward limited offensive.

Gain On Flanks
A regimental officer told Associated Press Correspondent Jim Becker: "I think we've hit their main defense line."

On the flank, however, gains up to six miles were recorded. An enemy division may be manning the Red defense line on the western half of the 40-mile front.

They're well dug in and determined to stay," Lt. Col. Bernard Peeters of Park Falls, Wis., executive officer of a spearhead regiment, told Becker.

"Terrific Losses"
Advance Allied units, he added, were suffering their heaviest casualties of the offensive, but these were far below the "terrific losses being inflicted on the enemy."

For the second straight day Chinese artillery pounded away at U.N. positions nine miles northwest of Suwon.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, U.S. Tenth corps commander on the central front, told a news conference—the North Korean Fifth corps is poised for an attack on Allied forces. He said his troops had wiped out the Korean Reds' Second corps.

One 45-man Allied patrol, entirely surrounded by a Chinese Communist battalion Monday 18 miles northwest of Wonju, was rescued Tuesday by another U.N. patrol after 15 hours of arduous fighting.

Mighty Mo In Action
The battleship Missouri and a heavy naval attack force teamed with carrier-based planes to plaster the Korean east coast town of Kansong, 25 miles north of parallel 38.

The navy's east coast bombardment was called the heaviest of recent months. A spokesman said rail and highway bridges were the principal targets.

A naval release late Tuesday said the battleship Missouri alone poured more than 1,000 rounds of 16-inch and five-inch ammunition into the Kansong area in the first hour of the neutralization bombardment.

Enemy Using Artillery
The light cruiser Manchester and nine destroyers, firing over the masts of minesweepers clearing the area, added to the tremendous volume of naval gunfire.

Task force 77 carrier-based planes hit previously assigned targets in the same area. The coastal town behind the Chinese lines took a terrific beating.

Due north of Suwon, the Chinese were making increasing use of artillery. Twenty-five rounds were hurled Monday against Puerto Rican troops fighting for a shushy hill about four and one-half miles northeast of Suwon. Frontline officers said the shells probably were fired from 75-mm. pack guns.

In Spring Hats
Paris, Jan. 30 (P)—Turret-shaped hats with inch-thick brims, boaters with rolled sides and toques swamped with apple or orange blossom, were seen when Legroux Soeurs opened their spring hat show here today.

The flower toques were widely applauded. One American hat buyer, Mrs. Louise Brooks, representing Henry Bendel of New York, said every woman should have a "flower" hat in her wardrobe this spring.

The Legroux sisters also show a wide range of fancy berets in gleaming white Panama and Bengal straws. They are like thick buns dimpled or squashed haphazardly to fit the head.

STUDY PLAN TO USE FLUORINE

York, Pa., Jan. 30 (AP) — The York Dental society moved ahead today with plans to make this city the first in Pennsylvania with a fluorinated water supply.

Dr. Linwood C. Grace, chief of the Dental Division of the State Health department, gave state approval to the society's plan which is designed to decrease the amount of decay in children's teeth.

A Dental society spokesman said the group's program will be examined for cost estimates and then presented to the York Water company, the utility which furnishes this community's water supply.

The spokesman said the program involved fluorinating the city's water at its source and estimates in other cities show the program costs an average of four to 12 cents per year per person.

Statistical studies have disclosed, according to the spokesman, that fluorination reduces decay in children's teeth by as much as 50 per cent. He cited the 10-year study of two northern New York communities as evidence of the accomplishments of fluorination.

The spokesman said Pittsburgh and Philadelphia officials have been studying the possibilities of starting such a program in their respective municipalities.

London, Jan. 30 (AP)—Britain disclosed today $3,051,000 ($3,542,800) were spent to send British troops to Korea. In addition the British navy has spent an unspecified sum on "operations in the Far East."

The figure was revealed when the Army, Navy and Royal Air Force asked Parliament for an extra $40,000,000 ($42,000,000) to tide them over until the end of the fiscal year, April 1. The army is seeking $20,000,000 ($22,000,000), and the Navy and R.A.F. $10,000,000 ($10,000,000) each.

Chicago, Jan. 30 (AP)—Development of a new method of preserving human bone for "bone banks" was announced by the navy today.

It may allow storage of bones for surgical use for as much as seven years, compared to an estimated one-year limit for bone preserved by a previous method involving storage in a deep-freeze cabinet.

The new technique entails only a "quick freeze," followed up by drying in a vacuum—and then storage in sterile containers at room temperature.

MRS. HENDERSON MUCH IMPROVED

Mrs. Boyd Henderson, 21, of Gettysburg R. 2, the former Miss Kathryn Trimmer, of Arendtsville, admitted to the contagious department of the Harrisburg hospital ten days ago with what was diagnosed as "possible polio encephalitis," was reported today much improved, but physicians still have not arrived at a definite diagnosis, according to Dr. Robert Hursh, in charge of the contagious ward.

Mrs. Henderson remained in a coma for almost nine days, but Monday night, Dr. Hursh said, she was able to recognize her husband, talk and ask questions. "Her mental condition is much clearer," Dr. Hursh said, "her temperature is staying down and she is a whole lot better."

Dr. Hursh said "your guess is as good as mine" as to the actual nature of the disease. Only a provisional diagnosis was made, he said, adding that it might take six weeks to form a definite diagnosis.

"There was no question she ex-hibited symptoms of encephalitis, but it would be difficult to prove the nature of the virus," he said. "We then considered that she might have tubercular meningitis, but at the rate she is showing improvement this diagnosis loses favor. We are not sure what she has."

AUTO ACCIDENT

driver crossed the center of the highway into the path of her car and caused the crash.

Were "Hurrying Home"
Witnesses for the defense this morning were equally emphatic that the White car had been on its own proper side of the highway and that the Thompson car was the one which passed over into the wrong lane and struck the car owned by John White.

George Fissel, Baltimore, formerly of Iron Springs, said he had stopped his car just off the curve on the Iron Springs road to allow two hitchhikers to get out of his car moments before the crash occurred. He said he noticed that the Thompson car appeared to be on the wrong side of the road. A number of other residents of the section were called to testify that when they arrived at the scene the Thompson vehicle was several feet "over" the center of the highway in the White car's section of the highway.

Mrs. Ira Henderson, Fairfield, said she accompanied her husband, Dr. Ira Henderson, to the scene when he was called to treat the injured. She added that Mrs. Thompson told her then that the Thompsons were hurry back to Philadelphia because Mrs. Thompson's mother thought she was still at work and did not know she was married.

The jury drawn for the White-Thompson case included William J. Alwine, Gettysburg; John Bieseker, Cashtown; William Chamberlain, Orlanora; Harry Cleaver, East Berlin R. 1; Milton Crabbs, Littlestown R. D.; Ray Craumer, Hanover R. 1; Maurice Feiser, East Berlin; Roy S. Foulk, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Lois Lott, York Springs R. 1; Raymond Ooster, Hanover R. 4; Donald Rouzer, Biglerville R. CARRIER IS SUNK

San Francisco, Jan. 30 (AP)—The battered aircraft carrier Independence has been sunk in a secret navy test off the California coast. The navy, in an announcement notable for its scant detail, said the valiant warship had gone to her end last Friday 200 miles off the coast. She was towed out by a navy tug last week for tests which have been secret. It was presumed that some weapon—possibly a guided missile—had been used to send her down.

FETE HOGAN AS ATHLETE WITH MOST COURAGE

Philadelphia, Jan. 30 (P)—Ben Hogan, who said his return to golf after recovering from a near fatal automobile accident was to "repay faith with faith," was honored last night as the most courageous athlete of 1950.

Bantam Ben was unable to appear to receive the annual award from the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association, but he spoke to the sellout crowd of more than 1,200 by means of a recording.

The little Texan with the big heart said that during his convalescence many people wrote him encouragingly and prayed for his recovery. "They had faith in me," he said. "I had to come back and prove to those people that I had faith in myself."

A long time colleague, Gene Sarazen, winner of six national championships in 30 years of tournament golf, accepted the trophy for Ben.

"I've played with the greatest golfers who ever lived," said Sarazen, "but none had more heart than Hogan. He's a champion because he's a killer. Ben doesn't know what it means to take it easy on an opponent. And he's always practicing to improve his game."

Doubted Recovery
Hogan was injured while returning home from a tournament in Phoenix, Ariz., February 2, 1949. For weeks, doctors doubted Ben would recover.

Six months after the accident, the man who in 1948 won the PGA, National Open and Western Open—America's golfing grand slam—was hobbling about on crutches. And 11 months later he was back on the tournament trail.

Hogan's first comeback attempt was in the Los Angeles Open. Experts thought he might not even finish the 72 holes. Again they miscalculated Hogan's greatness of heart. He tied for first place with Slamming Sam Snead. Although he lost the playoff, there was no doubt he was back in form.

It wasn't until May, 1950—three months after Los Angeles—that Hogan tried another tournament. He captured the Greenbrier Open with a record 21 under par 250. Now he was ready for the big prize, the National Open at Merion Country club in suburban Philadelphia.

Playing over the scorched Merion course, Hogan rallied to finish in a deadlock with two old pros, Lloyd Mangrum and George Fazio. And although playing with an injured knee that forced him to use a club as a crutch in walking the course, he won the National title in an 18 hole playoff.

The writers also honored Jim Konstanty, Philadelphia Phillies relief pitcher ace, as the outstanding athlete of 1950. Holland Donan, Princeton university tackle, received an award as linesman of the year in college football and Paul Arizin, erstwhile Villanova college basketball ace currently with the Philadelphia Warriors, was feted as the native Philadelphian who accomplished the most in sports last year.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 30 (P)—The 1951 United States Walker Cup team named last Saturday isn't exactly a collection of greybeards, but more interesting from this angle is the youthful group of alternates. . . .

We'd like to see these five—Al Mengert, Harvie Ward, Dynamite Goodloe, Dow Finsterwald and Bud Holscher—join up with a few other good young players and take on the "regulars" in a preliminary match. . . .

The USGA could recruit such as Dale Morey, Hobart Manley, Gene Little, Billy Maxwell, Dean Lind, Mason Rudolph to round out a kids squad that could attract a lot of attention. . . . Or, to make it a three-way affair (just speculative, of course) how about recruiting nine "unknown" young pros who have looked good in the early stages of the winter tour. . . . Guys like Julius Boros, Doug Ford, Jimmy Clark, Bob Toski, Dick Mayer, Manuel De La Torre, Al Besselin, Shelley Mayfield and Art Wall, Jr., could make it even more interesting. . . .

DILEMMA DEPT.
The other day a letter addressed to "Mascot Handler, University of New Hampshire" was deposited (naturally) on the desk of Publicity Director Bill Stearns. . . . Seems some lads at the University of Bridgeport had purchased a great Dane as a team mascot. The University authorities were hesitant about granting the pooch recognition because they might be held liable if he should inflict bodily harm on someone. . . . "We have taken care," the letter plaintively explained, "to get an especially affectionate and mild mannered animal." But the writer still wanted expert advice on handling the problem. . . . Stearns couldn't offer much help. New Hampshire, after several unpleasant experiences with live wildcats, had its mascot stuffed and placed in the trophy room. Says Bill: "In this condition she gives us relatively little trouble, although occasionally we have to spray for moths."

Late report from the south says

KENTUCKY HAS NARROW MARGIN AS TOP QUINT

New York, Jan. 30 (P)—With another full month before the first of the basketball tournaments begins, the Kentucky Wildcats and Oklahoma A. and M. appear due for a battle right down to the wire for the No. 1 collegiate ranking.

For the second week in a row, Kentucky topped the weekly AP poll today, but the Margin was by a slim 19 votes over the Aggies of Oklahoma.

Of course, something could pop up to blow down the rankings of one or the other—or both—before the end of the poll. For instance, take the case of Long Island university, the No. 2 team last week, but dropped this week to No. 4 because of its loss to California Saturday, 69-67. Arizona bumped LIU last night at Tucson, 62-61, but this was after the votes were counted for this week's ranking.

The results all were in last night, however, before Kentucky took the court to thump Tulane, 104-68, at New Orleans. It was a new Southeast conference scoring record, and possibly Kentucky felt it needed some positive proof it should show who is boss in the court business.

From here on, the schedule favors Kentucky to add to its 15-1 mark. The Wildcats have nine games left in regular season play, most with impotent Southeastern conference clubs.

Aggies Face Test
On the other hand, Oklahoma A. and M. has a tougher row to hoe, especially with some Big Seven and Missouri Valley foes waiting to ambush Coach Hank Iba's lads.

With 138 sportswriters and broadcasters voting in this week's poll, Kentucky received 42 first-place votes and Oklahoma A. and M. 31. The Aggies, with an 18-1 record, dropped their last week.

On the basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, and so forth, Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentucky quintet had 988 points this week, compared with 969 for Oklahoma A. and M.

The same 10 teams in the top 10 remained there, but seven of them changed positions in a skimpy week of basketball play due to mid-year examinations.

Indiana (13-1), leading the Big Ten parade, moved up from fifth a week ago to third place, with 636 points. After Long Island comes Bradley (18-3) in fifth, a drop from fourth; Columbia, the country's only major unbeaten team with 12 straight, up from seventh to sixth; Kansas State (13-2), ninth last week, moving to seventh; North Carolina State (19-2) holding to eighth; St. John's of Brooklyn (13-2), dropping from sixth to ninth; and St. Louis (14-4) hanging on to tenth.

Here are the leading teams with points based on ten for first place vote, nine for second, etc. (First place votes and season records including last night's games in parentheses):

1. Kentucky (42) (15-1) . . . 988
2. Okla. A. and M. (31) (18-1) . . . 969
3. Indiana (7) (13-1) . . . 636
4. Long Island U. (3) (16-2) . . . 568
5. Bradley (1) (18-3) . . . 551
6. Columbia (4) (12-0) . . . 435
7. Kansas State (4) (13-2) . . . 400
8. N. C. State (7) (19-2) . . . 376
9. St. John's (2) (13-2) . . . 341
10. St. Louis (14-4) . . . 238

The Tucson open golf tournament, started Thursday, has been named in honor of ailing Leo Diegel. But some golf pros say that isn't enough. They ask how about naming Leo to Golf's Hall of Fame right now? . . . Boston basketball promoters are happy that they didn't try to put the New England college tournament into Boston Garden. . . . By playing in college gyms, they'll make tickets hard to get, and when the event grows to garden size they figure the fans still will rush to get admissions.

The futility of the hope for perpetual motion applies also to electricity. If a motor is used to drive a generator, the generator will not produce enough power to run the motor because of friction and other power losses.

Al Murawski Has A Pulled Tendon

Annapolis, Pa., Jan. 30—Al "Hoop-a-long" Murawski, Lebanon Valley's sensational sophomore forward, continued his blistering pace against Gettysburg college last Saturday night with 12 field goals and nine charity throws for 33 points.

This boosted his season's total to 390 points and his game average to 27.8 to make him the nation's leading small college scorer, and placed him just two-tenths of a point behind Temple's Bill Mikvy, the nation's large college scoring leader.

Lebanon Valley rooters were dismayed to learn that Murawski had injured his foot in the Gettysburg game. At first it was thought a small bone was broken, but X-rays showed nothing more serious than a pulled tendon, and it is hoped that he will be in action against Pennsylvania Military college this Saturday.

Lions' Wives

Richard Codori, fined all the clubmen 10 cents for not inviting their wives to the meeting. Then the Lions had to pay fines for not wearing their large identification buttons. The buttons, incidentally, were reposing on their rack at the Shetter House, some four blocks away.

About that time Mrs. Lippy announced the usual 20-cent limit on fines had been upped to 50 cents for the evening and then the Lions were fined for all sorts of things, including the color of their neckties, no matter what the color. One tail-twister caught a preacher and school teacher matching the few pennies that remained in their possession—and they were fined for gambling a few minutes before the Lionesses came by to sell chances on a ham.

The ladies forgot all about drawing for the winner until protesting Lions called it to their attention after the meeting was over.

The ladies led the singing of "Anchors Aweigh" for Talltrotter John C. "Buck" Stahle, a former member of the West Point coaching staff, and Mrs. Ralph Barley, wife of the club secretary, read "minutes of a meeting of the girls." Committee reports in humorous vein were given as follows: "Stink" or Rock Creek, committee, Mrs. Charles Smith; comfort stations, Mrs. Norman Richardson; one-way streets, Mrs. R. D. Wickerham, and center plot, Mrs. J. B. Collins.

Parody Minstrel Show
The minstrel skits began with all of the wives singing "Roll Out the Barrel," with Mrs. Robert Deardorff replacing the regular Lions club pianist. Then Mrs. Percy Miller sang "Downtown Strutters' Ball" that her husband had sung in the Lions' show last April. Next, Mrs. Clarence E. Bartholomew wore big white gloves as she sang her husband's minstrel song, "Birth of the Blues."

Mrs. Edward J. Nowicki, Jr., and Mrs. John Millard in costumes similar to those worn by their respective husbands, sang "Caroline" and "Mammy" as their spouses had done last spring. Mrs. D. E. Hess followed with "Last Night on the Back Porch" in the exact manner of her husband, even "forgetting" lines where he had in a final stanza.

Absentees In Trouble
The memorable park bench scene that winds up with a "Some dew, but I don't," was re-enacted by Mrs. Clarence J. Waybright and Mrs. Collins. Mrs. George A. Albee sang and danced "Now's the Time to Fall in Love" as her husband had and Mrs. Kendeheart sang "I'll Be With You in Apple Blossom Time," her husband's solo in the earlier show.

Winding up the minstrel acts were Mrs. George F. Eberhart doing a blackface dance act while Mrs. Millard sang "Ain't She Sweet?" Then all the ladies sang "Swanee" as the program ended.

The Lions agreed they had a lot of fun—and had spent a lot of money—but as Song Leader John Millard pointed out, the fellows that paid heaviest were those that told their wives they were going to Lions club Monday night and failed to appear.

The Sophomores and Preps, seeing themselves apparently outwitted, took measures to break up the banquet, but only succeeded in getting into a scrimmage in which they lost their class officers and mascot. These three gentlemen were permitted to view the feast, first having been strapped to chairs.

Forty-nine members of the class of 1904, including the seven young lady members, drank to the prosperity of 1904 and to the confusion of 1903. A. C. Wolf was the toastmaster.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

NOT KNOWING

Columbus died not knowing that he had given the inspiration for the opening up of a great continent. George Gissing, the English writer, died in poverty, not knowing that he had placed his name among the notable of his time. The tiny cottage on the Grand Concourse, in New York city, that marks the home of Edgar Allan Poe in life, is a pathetic sight, for here it was that his wife died in poverty—yet that memorial marks the home of one of the world's greatest poets, he dying not knowing this to be a fact.

In the notable collection of rare literary items in the New York Public Library, are two copies of Poe's first book—a mere pamphlet. I understand that one of them cost its purchaser $20,000. I believe that but six copies now are recorded as being in existence. I often wonder why people are allowed to die not knowing of their worth in life!

People who so often came upon the figure of old Walt Whitman, in Camden and Philadelphia, looked upon him merely as a queer old fellow, not knowing that here was one of the world's potential great. He was so simple and kindly, ever ready for friendly conversation with anyone. So he went his happy way, meeting people and writing his thoughts. He even set up a large part of his first and greatest book—"Leaves of Grass," writing his own testimonials for it! Its sale was even suppressed in some places! He also died not knowing the appreciation of his greatness.

Every day of our lives we meet and look upon people whose potentiality, for good or evil, we know nothing about. We can predict and prophesy about people, not knowing a single thread of communication to either their minds or hearts. This is one reason why we should try to be kindly and tolerant toward all with whom we talk or companion.

I once read a book reviewer who wrote a very unkind criticism of the latest book of an author whose former books were of a high character. It seems that the author was at that time dying of an incurable disease—but she had time to read this criticism. I know of a reviewer who said that if he couldn't say something good about a book that he would write nothing about it.

NOT CLOCKWISE

I've been given a wonderful clock
To show me the month and the day;
An alarm, with the slightest of shock,
I can trust to drive slumber away.
A help I am sure I should find it
If I knew how to set and to wind it.

A barometer stands by its side,
The atmosphere's pressure to show.
I look at its dial with pride,
But just how it works I don't know.
I think it a shame and a pity
I can't set the thing for my city.

Both are works of some marvelous Swiss,
With instructions which helpful should be;
But the truth of the matter is this:
They do nothing but mystify me.

Since I can't get the gadgets together
I know neither the month nor the weather.

"I Now Get Amazing Relief from Monthly Female Pains and nervous feelings several days before... by taking Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound"

"Believe me, it's no picnic to suffer distress from female functional monthly ailments such as headaches, backache and 'bearing-down' pains—at such times, what really got my goat was I'd feel so nervous, irritable and restless several days just before my period.

"A nurse who is a friend of mine suggested I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. And what an amazing medicine Lydia Pinkham's Compound is! It not only relieves this painful distress for me but also accompanying nervous tension and tired, weak feelings—of this nature. I take Pinkham's Compound every day now, because I find that this helps build up resistance against such female distress. It tastes swell in a little fruit juice! I do hope any girl or woman who suffers this way will give Pinkham's Compound a trial.

P.S. Or you may prefer Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Easy to carry in your purse.

KOREAN WAR IS OUTGROWING ITS PRESENT SITE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The text for our sermon today is taken from the statement by General MacArthur after his week-end visit to the blazing Korean battlefield.

"The stake we fight for now," said he, "is more than Korea. It's a free Asia."

And how shall we interpret that? Well, to me it emphasizes that the conflict is outgrowing Korea, and that Asia already is aflame with the "hot war" which peace-loving peoples so long have dreaded.

Beyond that we have no right to speculate with MacArthur's words.

However, from our own observations we are entitled to add that this Asiatic upheaval might (though not necessarily) develop into World War III.

When we speak of another global war, probably most of us instinctively have in mind a conflict starting in Western Europe. That's natural, because it's where the last two were touched off—and because Europe is closer to us than Eastern Asia.

But our world is like a bomb with many fuses. It can explode which ever fuse is fully lighted.

The trend of events has made it quite clear that the Korean War wasn't a spontaneous affair but was the outgrowth of a deliberate plan. The Communist North Koreans launched it by invading independent South Korea.

United Nations intervention to halt this attack was followed by the appearance of "Chinese Volunteer" troops from Manchuria and China proper. Red Peiping's subsequent assumption of spokesmanship for these "volunteers" and North Koreans has made it obvious that Moscow-backed China is behind the Korean upheaval.

Anybody's Guess
When we further take into consideration Red China's activities against French IndoChina, Tibet, and other eastern countries we get a picture of an Asia across which the Bolshevik revolution is spreading. All this is being engineered by

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Washbaugh and daughter, Sara, of Annadale, Va., visited with Mrs. Washbaugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Humerick.

Mrs. C. Felix Adams was reported slightly improved Saturday at the Warner hospital where she has been a patient for nearly two weeks.

A surprise party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly on Sunday evening at their home on DePaul street by their daughters, Mrs. Robert L. Topper and Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, in honor of their 49th wedding anniversary today. Games were played and refreshments served to Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Christer, Mrs. Jackson Humerick, Miss Alice Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Sells, Mrs. Ray Topper, Lewis Kelly, Mrs. Robert Topper, Mrs. Rosensteel and daughter, Barbara Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will soon be 80 years old and are enjoying excellent health.

Earl S. Kugler entered the Warner hospital Sunday evening as a patient where he will undergo x-rays and observation for a week. Mrs. Jackson Humerick quietly observed her birthday anniversary at her home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Louis Topper and daughters, Marie and Dorothy, and Barbara Ann Rosensteel spent Saturday in Hanover.

George L. Willhide and Frank W. Went spent Saturday evening in Baltimore. Mr. Willhide attended the banquet at the Lord Baltimore hotel given by the Maryland Bankers association in observance of their 50th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gunn and children, Elaine and Stephen, of Riverside, N. J., are spending a ten-day vacation at the home of Mrs. Gunn's mother, Mrs. Ray Topper, DePaul street. Other visitors at the home of Mrs. Topper over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Topper, Ferndale; Mr. and Mrs. "Mickey" Topper and son, of Baltimore, and Charles B. Topper, also of Baltimore.

Mrs. John White and Mrs. Roy Bollinger attended the clothing demonstration held recently in Communist China, in collaboration with Moscow.

And why should Communism choose Asia as the theatre for the first outbreak of "hot war"? Because that is the theatre in which the Bolsheviks can whittle down America and the other western allies militarily and economically without actually precipitating a world war at the outset.

Moreover, Russia doesn't have to get involved directly herself, but can work through China. Any such operation in Europe would have to be carried out by Russia herself. This would immediately launch a world war and bring retaliation on the Soviet Union.

How long this whittling down process will continue in Asia is anybody's guess. It could spread considerably and run on for a long time without actually developing into a global affair. We may be sure Russia will keep on with her efforts to weaken America as long as it is profitable.
